AN AFFECTIONATE SCENE.

AN affectionate scene occurred in the New York Times Police Court recently. Charles H. Sheridan, aged eighteen years, was arraigned for stealing a value, the property of Mr. McVeigh, of Pennsylvania. The prisoner freely admitted his guilt, and conducted the detectives to a warehouse, where the stolen property was found. The judge, after a brief examination, found the prisoner guilty, and sentenced him to the reformatory for two years.

BISHOP GILBERT HAYES, whose death at Malden, Mass., on Saturday afternoon last, is announced, was born near Boston, Mass., September 19, 1821.

In 1851 he joined the New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was stationed successively at Northampton, Westfield, Roxbury, and Cambridge, Mass. In 1861 he was appointed to the position of pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in New York City.

A FAMOUS LAWYER ENDED.

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS.

Members of both houses are returning to-night, and no trouble is anticipated about a quorum to-morrow. The late Senator Houston, with the Hon. John L. Leche, of Virginia, and Hon. John W. Jones, of Tennessee, constituted what was known as the Treasury guard when they were in the Supreme Court to-day listening to the delivery of opinions. Senator Johnston arrived to-night, and is at his old quarters, 606 Thirteenth street. Senator Bayard was in his financial committee to-day, and is already busy. He is still in receipt of a large number of letters from leading financiers endorsing his financial resolution. No one at Washington seems more interested in Virginia than he does, and he speaks of the present political situation in your State from a calm and elevated standpoint.

REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The report of the Bureau of Statistics makes a most gratifying exhibit in regard to the exports from the South during November and October. During October, out of a total of over eight million, the southern ports exported nearly thirty millions, which with New York's thirty-seven millions made over three fourths of the entire amount exported from the United States. The report for November is even more satisfactory, as out of a total of seventy-eight millions, the southern ports sent out goods valued at thirty-five millions, which with New York's twenty-nine millions constituted nearly seven eighths of the entire exports from the United States during the month. In November Baltimore exported $6,507,533; Charleston, $3,135,445; New Orleans, $12,343,382; Norfolk, $3,124,656 (about the same as Philadelphia); Savannah, $4,784,414; Galveston, $3,004,893. Boston exported less than Savannah.

FIRE RECORD.

A NEW YORK HOLOGRAPH—FOUR PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH AND OTHERS INJURED—DETAILS OF THE DISASTER. NEW YORK, January 5.—A fire broke out this morning in the basement of Nos. 64 and 66 East Fourth street, known as Turner's Hall, and occupied by William Winkie as a ball-room. The building was owned by the Turner Society, and was damaged $7,000. The stock was damaged $5,000. After the fire William Geib, ten years of age; Louis Schmidt, thirty years; Henry Gilweier, twenty-five years; and Teresa Richard, twenty-five years, were found on the top floor—all dead. Winkie and his wife were badly burned, and sent to the hospital. Annie Bauer received internal injuries by jumping from the fourth-story window, and was badly burned about the hands and face. An unknown woman had both legs broken by jumping from the top floor.

It was known that William Winkie, the proprietor, with his wife and employees, slept in the building, and before the heavy doors could be broken open several of them appeared at upper windows imploring help. Even after the doors had yielded the unfortunate could not be reached, as the flames swept up the broad and only stairway. The firemen went to the roof of the adjoining house and tried to release the imprisoned people by means of the scuttle, but there was no scuttle to the building in which they were confined. A hole had to be cut through the roof, and by this means only they were reached. By this time four persons had been burned or suffocated to death. The origin of the fire is unknown. It broke out in the basement, and swept up the broad stairway like a flash of lightning. Even after the doors had yielded the unfortunate could not be reached, as the flames swept up the broad and only stairway.

ADDITIONAL BURNING DETAILS.

Surrounded as they were by flames, and cut off from all access to safety below by the burning staircases, several persons sustained severe injuries by leaping from the highest stories of the building. One man, whose name is unknown, was falling from the fourth story, and was caught by a fireman. The body of a woman was found in the street, and it is believed that she had jumped from the fourth story. The firemen went to the roof of the adjoining house and tried to release the imprisoned people by means of the scuttle, but there was no scuttle to the building in which they were confined.

ESCAPE CUT OFF.

Of twelve or fifteen persons sleeping in No. 64, four were burned to death and five injured. Nos. 64 and 66 East Fourth street, the scene of the disaster, is a double house with a large number of lodges and meeting-rooms. There were no fire-escapes attached to the building. There were two stairways, one wide and one narrow one, and the wide stairway served as a funnel through which the flames, when the fire broke out, poured down and up the stairs. There had been a meeting of the Turner's Society, which had received visiting brethren from New York, and a wedding party, in the building during the evening, but these had all gone away before the fire occurred. The fire broke out in the basement, and swept up the broad stairway like a flash of lightning. Even after the doors had yielded the unfortunate could not be reached, as the flames swept up the broad and only stairway.

ST. PETERSBURG, JANUARY 5.—Adjutant Baronoff, the Russian commander of the gunboat Vesta during the Russo-Turkish war, who was court-martialed and dismissed the service for making use of insulting language in reference to the Minister of Marine, has presented a notice of appeal against the judgment of the court, and it is said the Minister of Marine has presented a petition for a remission of the sentence and his own resignation.

Four hundred and fifty villages have been driven from their homes, and the population of the provinces around Nancy is suffering from want of food."

A VAST SEA OF FLAMES.

The men and women were seen rushing wildly about seeking for means of escape. George Muller and Ernest and Herman Ruhl reached the roof half suffocated and partly burned. Louis Meyer sprang from a window to the yard below, a distance of sixty feet or more, and was picked up half killed. Louis Schmidt, the Democrat, was crawling in the corner, whence he was unable to escape, and was burned to a crisp. Henry Girweier was burned from a window into the yard and was found there, but died in the police-station. Every body in the house was injured, and Edward was burned to death in his room, and his features were blackened and almost unrecognizable. Annie Bauer sprang from a window rather than die in the fire, and fell in the yard. She was terribly burned, and sustained internal injuries from the fall. Rose, the last of the servants, also jumped from a window, but struck an arbor in the yard. She broke both legs and arms and received internal injuries.
